GREEK-BULGARIAN WAR IS ENDED

HARRY MARCUS, INC. TO HOLD OPENING TONIGHT

War Ended Almost At Inception

Bulgaria Accepts Terms Laid Down in Ultimatum by Greece

WILL PAY BIG INDEMNITY

Trouble Started Over Shooting Of Greek Subject In Bulgaria

(By Universal Service)

ATHENS, GREECE, Oct. 22.—The war between Greece and Bulgaria ended almost before it started. Bulgaria has capitulated and agreed to pay the indemnity demanded by Greece for the killing of a number of Greek soldiers. That Bulgaria had accepted the terms of the ultimatum made by Greece, was officially announced here tonight.

The trouble originated in the Demirhisar region, where bad blood had existed for three months because of the killing of a Greek citizen at Tsimakia, Bulgaria. Bulgarian irregulars were reported to have fired over the border at Greek patrols and a night-long fight followed.

Greece demands 2,000,000 gold francs indemnity for the families of the officers and soldiers killed in the battle, as well as apology from Sofia within 48 hours. This ultimatum was handed out at Athens yesterday and the order for the advance into Bulgarian territory given in support of it.

Greek troops crossed the Bulgarian border at dawn, carrying out the Greek decision to occupy the Bulgarian town of Petrich. It was announced here today. The government declares that the occupation of Petrich has been decided upon in order to prevent further Bulgarian aggressions and to insure the complete fulfillment of the Greek demands for 2,000,000 francs indemnity and an apology for the alleged Bulgarian attack upon Greek outposts.

Woman Found In El Cerrito Is Identified

Police have identified the woman found on the streets of El Cerrito Tuesday afternoon as Mrs. Anna Harland, 1212 North Side, Berkeley. The woman was found in an unconscious condition near the Fairmont school and was taken to the Berkeley General hospital. She did not regain consciousness for nearly 10 hours and identification was not made until early yesterday morning.

It was found that she suffered four hemorrhages, according to police reports. It is believed that Mrs. Harland became faint and fell, striking her head on the pavement.

To temporarily stop a radiator leak plug both sides of the radiator with ordinary yellow washine soap at the point where it is leaking.

DAVIS, APPOINTED TO SUCCEED SECRETARY WEEKS, PHOTOGRAPHED AT HIS DESK AT WAR DEPARTMENT

When John W. Weeks succumbed to the arguments of his family and physicians and resigned as Secretary of War, President Coolidge promptly named Acting Secretary of War Dwight F. Davis for the vacant post. The new Secretary is a tall, upstanding man, only 45 years of age, being only 45. Davis is wealthy, is a lawyer as well as a financier, is a Harvard man and first attained fame as a national tennis champion. He is the donor of the Davis Cup, the international tennis championship trophy.

CONSTRUCTION OF NEW WHARF STARTED HERE

Actual work on the new open wharf of the Richmond Inner harbor started Wednesday when a number of test piles were driven by the Tibbitts Pacific company, which has the contract for the building of the wharf. These test piles were driven to ascertain the depth of bed rock and the amount of creosoted piling which will be required can now be determined.

The piling has been ordered and as soon as it arrives work will begin in earnest on the construction. In the meantime the construction company is carrying on such preparatory work which is possible before the piling or foundation of the new 500 foot wharf is put into place.

Immediately upon the arrival of the piling the construction company will bend every effort to finish the open wharf in the least possible time.

CAPTAIN GOFF SPEAKS TO BIG AUDIENCE HERE

"Law Enforcement," was the topic of a lecture delivered by Captain Charles Goff, former dry chief of the San Francisco forces, before the Masons of Richmond, at a session held in Masonic hall last night under the auspices of McKinley lodge, No. 347.

Captain Goff centered his discussion about crime in prohibition, but combined it with all phases of crime. Having been for many years on the "inside" Captain Goff was able to deliver an interesting and enlightening discourse on the subject.

The regular meeting of McKinley lodge was canceled on account of the lecture.

Lane Takes Tumble From Building

W. L. Lane, former city councilman, narrowly escaped serious injury this week, when he fell from the roof of a two story building owned by J. Osborne at 830 Maine street. The extent of the injury was a bruised shoulder.

Fire Department Does Creditable Work at Big Fire

The Lambrecht coal yard in North Richmond was seriously threatened by fire yesterday afternoon and the fact that the place was not destroyed is due to the quick work of the Richmond Fire department, owners of the coal yard declare.

Shortly after 2:30 o'clock, a grass fire broke out near the yard and the wind was rapidly sweeping the flames toward the yard when the fire department, in immediate response to the alarm, arrived at the scene. The fire was under control in a short time, but it was an hour before the last spark was finally put out.

Engine company No. 2, of the department, responded to an alarm for a grass fire at Twenty-fifth street and Rheem avenue yesterday afternoon, a few minutes after the coal yard blaze. No damage was done.

Progress Made By Local Moose On Bldg. Fund

It was announced at the meeting of Richmond lodge of Moose in Moose hall last night, that the sum of $10,000 had been raised up to October 1, toward the $50,000 California building, to be erected at Mooseheart, Illinois. This building will house orphans and is being erected entirely by capital from California lodges of Moose. It is expected that it will be dedicated at the convention at Mooseheart next June.

The lodge accepted an invitation last night to attend Martinez lodge next Thursday night and participate in a Halloween party there. A large number of local members will make the trip.

Dictator William Vossbeck presided over last night's meeting.

Chemical Company Finishes Addition

The Stauffer Chemical company in Stege will in two weeks complete the improvements on its chamber and contact plants, costing $200,000, J. K. Joscrop, superintendent, announced yesterday.

Triple demand for the product of the company in the past few years necessitated the installation of more improvements for developing the product. James Walker, local contractor, is now installing a furnace house or burner for the contact plant at a cost of $20,000. The plant will be working at full capacity by the end of this month, Moscrop announced.

Profits Do Not Reach City Purse

Profits in Warehouse Are In The Hands Of The Goods

WHARF MAINTENANCE HIGH

73,082 Tons of Goods Passed Through Wharf Warehouse During 1923

(INSTALLMENT 8)

The profits in a warehouse are in the hands of the goods, and not in what is received for warehousing. To operate a warehouse and only receive one part of the income that belongs to the business means a loss.

Warehouses in all parts of the country are mainly operated on the same basis, and according to the rules of the American Warehouse Association.

Individuals purchase water front property, build docks and warehouses, and make fortunes out of them. The charges include interests on the investment, depreciation, maintenance and administration. All of these expenses are included in the tolls collected.

Some cities operate their own warehouses and some do not. Los Angeles operates on a rental basis and a fixed price for tolls. Seattle operates a part of her own docks, but it is claimed the result is not satisfactory.

Most of the cities have private individuals handle their docks on a fixed basis so that a net income of some kind is assured.

It is very seldom that a warehouse operated by private individuals or corporations ever run behind, or do you every rarely hear of one going into bankruptcy.

There is a reason for it. The private companies not only collect tolls, and warehouse charges, but also handle the loading and unloading of cars. They keep the cream as well as the skim milk, and the two of them show a handsome profit. Skim milk alone is bad not only for an individual, but for the City of Richmond as well.

The usual charges made by warehouses are as follows: A charge for

New Buildings to Be Erected Here

Walter Powers will erect a $3500 cottage on Esmond avenue, between Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth streets, with J. A. Legault as the contractor according to a building permit issued yesterday.

A. C. Coster obtained a permit to install a gasoline pump and storage tank on Macdonald avenue, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets, at a cost of $200.

Norman E. Anderson, local contractor, is building a cottage with garage on Thirtieth street, between Nevin and Barrett avenues, at a cost of $3300.

Tandy and Theis obtained a permit to build a $3500 cottage and garage on Thirty-seventh street, between Roosevelt and Clinton avenues.

Harry White will erect a cottage at a cost of $1400 on Wall avenue, between Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth streets.

Health Ass'n. to Hear Dr. Scippy

It was announced yesterday that the speakers of the evening at the meeting of the Contra Costa Public Health association at Brentwood on October 27, will be Dr. John Scippy, health director of San Joaquin county and Florence Ann Brown, director of Christmas seals in Alameda county last year.

ROSE BOYLE INJURED IN AUTO WRECK

Rose Boyle, 17, 1406 Potrero avenue, Stege, sustained painful bruises about the face and body and cuts on both knees yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock when the automobile in which she was riding with A. L. Hutton, 420 Twelfth street, was struck by a machine driven by H. S. Gonner, Messerle apartments, at the intersection of Tenth street and Chestnut avenue. Miss Boyle also suffered severe shock.

The girl and Hutton were driving north on Tenth street when, at the corner, their machine was crashed into broadside by the Gonner machine. Miss Boyle was thrown from the machine, caught on the bumper and dragged twenty feet after which she fell under the Gonner automobile.

The injured girl was rushed to the Abbott Emergency hospital, where she was given first aid by Dr. U. S. Abbott. It was found that her injuries were not serious and she was later removed to her home. Both automobiles that figured in the crash were badly damaged.

Officers from the Richmond Police department made an investigation of the collision and decided it to be accidental so no arrests were made.

POLICE CHECK AUTO SMASHUP

Richmond police are investigating an automobile accident that occurred at the intersection of Twenty-third and Esmond avenue, last night. An unidentified person telephoned police headquarters that an automobile had turned turtle after striking the curb at the intersection and was smashed in the side of the street.

This person also stated that a woman was lying beside the car and that she was rushed to "the hospital." However, a check of the local and Berkeley hospitals, disclosed that no woman was brought in from Richmond late in the evening.

The car bore no registration certificate nor was there any person connected with it at the scene of the accident was discovered. Police are of the opinion that the machine had been stolen. It was towed to the Mt. Diablo garage and left for further investigation. The license plate numbers will be checked at Sacramento.

Chairman Gives Plan of Circus For Armistice

John Cuthbert, general chairman of the American Legion celebration, during Armistice week, gave a sketch of the plans for the celebration at the meeting of the post in Memorial hall last night.

The Richmond Post of the American Legion received and accepted the report of the auditing committee of the Memorial Hall association, which shows that the total assets of the hall association up to October 12, were $1339.40.

Al Browning was delegated to meet with auxiliary to the post this evening at 7:30 to arrange for a turkey feast party in the near future. The auxiliary is giving away a large basket of groceries for the benefit of the Christmas fund for veterans in various hospitals in California. Mrs. Clara Barry, 253 Eleventh street heads the committee.

BIRTH CERTIFICATE FILED

A certificate of birth was filed with the City Health department yesterday showing that a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Libado Flores, of Verdugo avenue, on October 13.

Harry Marcus President Of New Store

By the LOST NOMAD

"Hey Barney, need this horse any longer or will I throw it out of the window."

"Now, I don't need it any longer, toss it out."

And the horse was thrown out of one of the back windows of the new Harry Marcus, Inc. Department store on Tenth street, landing with a crash among carpenters who were cleaning up the debris in back of the newly constructed store.

No we're not talking about "Spark-plug" and his well known owner. It appears that one of the carpenters working on the store bears the same name as the much teased horse owner, and the horse was only a wooden horse, such as is used by carpenters.

This actually happened yesterday afternoon and if you don't believe it, ask Harry Marcus—if you can get at him today, for he's a busy man.

Incidentally this is all about Harry, who is about to introduce Richmond and Contra Costa county to its most modern and up-to-the-minute department store.

Yesterday afternoon when we went up to talk to him he was in his shirt sleeves hard at work, getting ready for the opening of the store, which is to take place this evening. He admonished—yes threatened us with extermination, if we mentioned the fact that he was working—but there you are.

Jumping in and making the dust fly from the time in 1917, when he first came to take over the management of the Big Store, is the thing that has marked the work of Marcus while in Richmond and made possible the monument of modern business which he has created on Tenth street.

In 1920, while in charge of the Big Store here, Marcus helped organize and was the first secretary of the Rotary Club International here. A short time later he resigned his position and made a tour of European countries, where he made a complete study of retail conditions and store management. This study was augmented by visiting some of the larger department stores in this country.

Upon his return there appeared in his mind's eye the store which has just been completed and which will be opened to the public tonight. A life spent in the retail department of department stores as buyer and manager, is to reach a high peak tonight when the doors of the new store are thrown open.

CUT ANNOUNCED ON STAR CARS

Star automobiles will be cut $70 immediately. C. C. Kratzer, Star dealer here, announced yesterday upon receipt of a telegram from the main office of the company.

Department Store Will Open Doors

Entertainment Will Feature Dedication of New Department Store

MOST MODERN IN COUNTY

H. A. Johnston President Of C. Of C. To Preside At Ceremony

At seven o'clock tonight the doors will swing open on Richmond's most imposing business structure and the largest department store in Richmond and Contra Costa County. At that time the Harry Marcus, Inc. Department store will make its bow to the public.

Johnston Presides

With H. A. Johnston, president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce officiating the dedication of the store will be held. A program including music by Denny Shaw's orchestra, vocal numbers by soloists and other entertainment features will be given.

COUNCIL GUESTS OF HONOR Mayor W. W. Scott and the council of Richmond will be the guests of honor at the ceremonies. Richmond and Contra Costa has been bid a hearty welcome to the new establishment and its opening program by Harry Marcus, who is the president and manager of the new establishment.

WILL BE MODERN

According to Marcus the store has been built to fill a much needed want in this section. The store is to be conducted on strictly modern principles as applied in the biggest metropolitan department stores.

WILL BE COMPLETE

Every department that is carried in the modern department store will be represented under the direct management of the store. A full staff of buyers, department managers and assistants has been secured and Saturday morning the store will be prepared to welcome its patrons.

All modern features have been incorporated for the comfort of the patrons and fast, convenient, satisfying service. A Lamson cash carrying system, which is the newest type of carrier has been installed. A convenience which will be welcomed by many patrons is the branch office of the Post Office, which has been installed on the mezzanine floor.

MAIN FLOOR

The main floor of the store which has a floor space of 75 by 100 feet includes: Complete men's furnishings, including suits and coats; complete boys' furnishings; a shoe department for men, women and children; a dry goods department, including silks, notions, dress goods, longie and corsets; a complete drug department; infants department; hosiery department; patterns; hosiery, and several other departments.

MEZZANINE FLOOR

The mezzanine floor includes: Ladies ready to wear including coats, gowns, dresses, in fact anything which Milady may desire in the line of outer adornment; millinery department; art department; drapery department; bedding department; fitting rooms and the branch post office.

Hi-Nus to Publish Christmas Edition

Tickets for the Christmas edition of the "Hi-Nus" Richmond Union high school's weekly journal, were distributed among the seniors of the school. It is reported that the tickets are selling rapidly, over 125 having been disposed of during two periods. The applications for the Christmas edition must be in the hands of the editor immediately as only a limited supply will be for sale.

THE TIDES OF FUNDY

In describing recently the gigantic project of utilizing the tides in the Bay of Fundy for power we pointed out that consent must be obtained from Maine because of a state law prohibiting the exportation of water power. This consent was given by a large majority in a special referendum election on September 14.

It remains to secure the approval of New Brunswick, the Dominion government, the United States power commission and the International Joint commission between the United States and Great Britain, which passes on matters relating to boundary waters.

This sounds formidable, but there is no real opposition to the plan and no trouble has developed internationally. The people of New Brunswick are known to be enthusiastic, and not only see no injury to them in the proposed use of the waters of Passamaquoddy Bay but believe that the establishing of this vast engineering plan will be directly beneficial to New Brunswick. Both in Canada and Maine the expenditure of perhaps $100,000,000 for construction work is welcome enough.

With the international and local aspects thus favorable and with general acceptance by engineers of the feasibility of the plan, only cost, time, and the drawbacks of working in remote and undeveloped districts remain to be considered. There seems to be more than a mere probability that the bold designer of the scheme, Dexter P. Cooper, may see the proposed "mass production of energy" (perhaps 700,000 horsepower) become an actuality and tides be thus harnessed through electricity to the will of man.—Outlook.

LIBERALIZING CALIFORNIA

A decision of tremendous importance to oil and mining men of California has just been made by the supreme court in its denial of a re-hearing in the case of State vs. Pace, in which the court of appeals declared unconstitutional that part of the state "blue-sky" law denying the right of the individual to dispose of securities within the state without first obtaining the permission of the corporation commissioner.

This means that one of the most drastic and unjust provisions of California's paternal and destructive law has been swept away, leaving the well-supported belief that other provisions which now mitigate against development of natural resources will also be declared unconstitutional when placed before properly-constituted courts.

General Rycek, Los Angeles attorney, who has given much attention to the law, in discussing the court's decision, says in an article in the California Oil World, "It means that the doors are opened to permit the sale of an individual's securities without consulting the corporation commissioner, and avoids the long delays and expenses connected with permits. It should indicate that an individual is free to sell his oil well or mine to a corporation in another state and take stock in exchange therefor; that he can then come to California and sell his stock when and where he wishes, and for whatever price he wishes to ask, untrammelled by the corporation commissioner of the state of California."

If you revel in statistical information you may like to know that the total current income of the American people rose from $67,254,000,000 in 1919 to $74,158,000,000 in 1920, but declined in 1921 to $62,726,000,000. In 1890 the income was only $27,100,000,000. The real income of the American people showed a practically continuous increase for thirteen years. This shows the prosperity of America.—Brooklyn Citizen.

Science predicts synthetic steaks from cotton-seed, but fails to tell what, in that event, we'll do for olive oil.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Varied Design and Color Keep Up Interest in the Neck Frock.

THERE are some women who really dislike to wear scarfs. They feel that the smartness and trimness of a frock is marred by the superimposition of a scarf, unless of course the scarf is part of the original design. They feel uncomfortable when wearing a scarf, and never seem to know just how to arrange the ends.

But there is just one instance where even a woman of this sort usually does wear a scarf and really ought to. That is when she is wearing a mannish coat of the sort that enjoyed such favor last spring, and may still be worn when the weather permits it this autumn. With this type of wrap nothing else quite answers the purpose. The fur scarf, no matter how choice, is not really an adequate substitute. The mannish coat of neutral or drab tone needs just the touch of color that can be given by a bright silk scarf.

During summer days when every woman and her mother wore frocks of figured print there was really less need of the scarf. The frock usually provided quite enough color in itself. But apparently there is no abatement of interest in scarfs, and the shops are now offering an abundant supply of scarfs of such novel and attractive appearance that it would be hard for women to resist them even if they had already planned to do so. One thing that will recommend the scarf to many women is that by means of them one may gain the effect of the high collar on a frock of low collar line, and high collars undoubtedly give a smart touch to the street frock nowadays.

One of the new scarfs seen recently was made of heavy chenille strands loosely woven together, with a fringe of chenille at either end. This type of scarf gives a rich velvety appearance and can be had in navy blue, brown, black and other shades.

The sketch shows two types of scarf—one of brown fur, with ends of red and gold knit to match the hat; and the other of blue crepe de chine with a landscape design painted on it in bright colors.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

By MARY MARSHALL

TELL-TALE WRINKLES

WRINKLES do not so much tell the tale of advancing years, but the tale of increasing worry. There are some quite old women whose faces show very few wrinkles, but there are a few women who persistently worry who can go much past middle age without showing tell-tale wrinkles.

So undoubtedly the first rule to give those who want to be without wrinkles is not to worry. There are other emotions besides that of worrying that bring wrinkles. Some women as they grow older get in the habit of straining the muscles of their faces over almost everything they do. Watch such a woman as she telephones. She knits her brow and puckers her lips or bits them. Little wrinkles appear around her eyes as she listens intently. As she sews or does any other hand work her face is also set in a wrinkle-forming expression. Apparently she cannot set her mind seriously to work at anything without putting her face in a frozen wrinkles. This isn't exactly worrying, it is the habit of tensing which is so easy to acquire as years are added to one's life.

A big source of wrinkles is in itself a perfectly commendable thing—and that is dieting. The woman who has become too fat and who had remained in that condition for any length of time, is sure to have sagging skin and wrinkles if at last she reduces to any considerable amount—and so it is best not to get too fat! That really is easier than getting rid of the wrinkles.

For wrinkled chin and throat, a good bending exercise of the neck is helpful—just bend the head slowly from back to front and from side to side.

Wrinkled hands can be helped by massage and rubbing with creams. Wrinkled faces can, of course, be much improved by systematic massage and creaming.

After twelve or fifteen minutes drain all the water from the rice shake up in the pot once or twice, cover, and place on the back of the stove or over a faint flame to dry out, until ready to serve. This should take about twenty minutes.

Nut Bread: Sift together four cupfuls of flour and four teaspoonfuls of baking powder. To one-half of this, add one cupful of chopped walnut meats and half a cupful of raisins. Now beat together 3.4 of a cupful of sugar, one and one-half cupfuls of milk, and one egg. Add the sifted flour, then the flour containing the nuts and raisins. Put it in two well-greased pans, let it stand about twenty minutes, and bake for nearly an hour in a moderate oven.

Peach Melba: You will need nice firm canned peaches, allowing one half for each person. Drain and chill and then serve them piled around a mound of vanilla ice cream. Pour over a rich raspberry syrup, which must be previously feed.

SYNOPSIS

Mrs. John Mantering and Diane Bledsoe are caught in a forest fire. The girl plunges into the water from which she is drawn by the older woman. Mrs. Mantering accomplishes the rescue at the peril of her own life; for a landslide has broken the dam and Mantering with difficulty fights to save his wife from the unleashed flood. It is a desperate struggle, with every step becoming a pain, every movement agony.

CHAPTER XV—Continued

Heedless of the flames which leaped beside him and of the overpowering heat John reached the bank and dropped down upon the edge. Completely spent, his heaving chest cried for air where there was only smoke, his heated blood called for coolness where there was only fire. Strangling, choking, all was growing dark about him as consciousness faded. It was weak and quivering arms, without a pound of lifting power, that he extended down to her—useless arms, helpless arms.

And that raging, surging mass of water was upon her—it towered above her!

In that awful moment, Eileen seemed to sense her husband's presence. Looking upwards, she gazed full into his glazed eyes. In that instant, the fear and sadness in her face melted before wonder, before joy and inexpressible happiness.

"John," she breathed, and again, "John."

Amidst the thunder of waters which tugged at her feet, her cry seemed to penetrate the twilight of his consciousness. Its sound was as a stimulant to his will, a tonic to his flaccid muscles. In a flash, his arms were steeled, the grip with which he seized her raised hands was as of iron. With the strength of a giant, he swung her up and back to safety even as that frightful wave tore at her ankles, at her knees, at her waist. Then, leaping back himself, he sank beside her, as balked of its prey, the wave swept on.

How long they lay there, John never knew. Suddenly cool, pure, life giving air was in his lungs. The draft caused by that mighty rush of water had revived them, and down there at the water's edge, they were protected from the awful heat of the burning forest. John sat up and took Eileen in his arms. They were safe.

A little distance away, along the shore, was Bledsoe, and Diane, like a tired child lay across his knees.

"Dead," he whispered in an agony of sorrow. "Diane is dead."

Then his bent figure straightened itself and in the seamed lines of his grief stricken face, there burned a rugged honesty which was almost heroic.

"She told me," he said, "Diane told me all before she died. The world must know the truth about your boy. She made me promise that."

Of how, when the forest fire had burned itself out, they made their way back to the road with Bledsoe bearing the body of his daughter as if it were a sleeping baby, John and Eileen remembered little. For that matter, the ride home seemed, after what they had undergone, like a dream. A restful, soothing dream, after a horrid nightmare.

It was well into the morning of the next day, election day, before Eileen began to feel herself again. Then, she moved slowly out on the terrace of her home and gazed forth at the sun lighted lawn with a great peace in her heart. In her hand was the newspaper she had been reading since breakfast and wonderfully interesting had she found it. In it was an account of the forest fire, of the destruction of Bledsoe's lodge and the village of Meadville; there too, was described the breaking of the dam and the great flood which had followed it. There also was the stirring story of John and Bledsoe's ride, of her husband's rescue of her and of Diane's death. Much space indeed was devoted by that journal to John Mantering. There was exposed the trickery by which Jerome Wallace would have robbed him of the election. There was an item setting forth the action of the county authorities in refusing to accept John's resignation. There was another regarding the refusal of the County Central Committee to order his name removed from the ticket as their candidate for the office of District Attorney. And still another item there was. One of but a few lines and which Dryden would never have published had it not been for Bledsoe's grim insistence. That told of Diane's confession.

A paper containing much and momentous news was it, and Eileen's eyes were still big with the wonder of these things, when a big car swung up the drive with a roar which awakened the echoes of the place. John Mantering sat in the back and beside him was a slighter figure. Even as the machine slowed, that figure arose and vaulting from the car ran swiftly towards her. It was Bob.

With a cry of gladness, she gathered him in her arms. It was her boy—her baby—come home. Tears of joy leaped to her eyes to quickly dry as she pressed him again and again to her. Finally, she turned to her husband.

"What about the election, John?"

He gazed down into her eyes and smiled as she had not seen him smile in days.

"There can be but one result. The opposition has repudiated Wallace, withdrawn his name from the ticket. I have no opposition."

Now, as the three of them waited, there came from the direction of the brick wall a cheery oho-o, at the sound of which Bob flushed and grew very uneasy.

And, with never a thought of waiting in maidenly reserve for her lover, no not even content to meet him half way, Marjorie came dancing across the lawn in search of him.

Bob joined her at the foot of the steps and as they turned away, she raised her finger for his inspection and something glittered upon it.

"Look, Bob," her girlish voice was waited back to John and Eileen. "It's our engagement ring—I bought it, myself."

John turned to his wife and that old wry smile was on his face. "Heaven preserve us!" he said. Eileen looked up with dancing eyes. Subconsciously, she must have caught something of the warm recommendation which Reddy had given the inn keeper at Meadville concerning herself, for now, she paraphrased it for Marjorie's benefit.

"She's the sort of girl, John, who knows exactly what she wants, and she doesn't care how she gets it, so long as she gets it."

"Well, then, good bye, Bob," said John, but there was never a bit of sorrow about him, as he drew his arm about his wife. And so they stood gazing out at the sun lighted lawn, that seemed in its brightness to reflect their own future.

As they did so, the self same bird which had sung upon the trellis before Eileen's window on the morning of Bob's birthday, fitted back to his former perch and caroled joyously. Caroled with marvelous sweetness, as it indeed he heralded the advent of another day. A day when truth would rule and justice reign. Yes, justice—tempered by love.

The End

Club Mendelssohn Has Interesting Welsh Program

The Club Mendelssohn enjoyed an interesting meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ross Calfee, 221 South Twenty-second street. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. E. T. Parker. The club made arrangements to send 12 table runners to the Livermore hospital for disabled War Veterans to help furnish the nurses ward. Following the business meeting the program of the day was opened with two records of Welsh songs sung by Evan Williams. The continuation of the study on Welsh music was carried on.

Mrs. James McVittie, who is noted for her clever reports, read an interesting paper on the evolution of music in Wales. After this paper she gave a vivid description of the festival given each year by the Welsh people, which is called "Eisteddfod". Welsh people of the east bay region hold the same festival each New Year's day in the Oakland auditorium.

Mrs. Joseph Mythen favored the group with two Welsh songs. The numbers were: "All Through the Night" by Pemillion and the Welsh National Anthem by Vaard-James. She was accompanied by Mrs. Fredrick Smith.

The two honor guests of the day were Mrs. G. G. Brear, county chairman of music of the Federation of Women's clubs and Mrs. G. Hall past president of the Alamo Community club. Both ladies received beautiful bouquets of roses from the club. Mrs. Brear contributed an interesting group of Welsh folk songs, each song accompanied with a description. At the close of the program dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Calfee.

ST. EDMUND'S LADIES ARE ENTERTAINED

Ladies of the St. Edmund's guild were delightfully entertained on Wednesday at luncheon by Mrs. Henry J. Hill, in her new home at 452 Thirtieth street. Following the luncheon the regular meeting of the guild was held with Mrs. E. H. Harlow presiding.

Plans were made to hold these social gatherings often in the future.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS HAVE HALLOWEEN PARTY

The home of Mrs. Catherine Miller, 104 First street Wednesday night, was the scene of a happy Halloween party given by the young people of the Royal Neighbors. Halloween spirit was carried out with witches, goblins and all the usual decorations for that day.

Games, dancing and music filled the evening's entertainment, after which refreshments were served by the hostess.

"BORN RICH" IS ATTRACTION AT THE RICHMOND

Claire Windsor and Bert Lytell have the leading roles in "Born Rich," a first National picture, which is coming today to the Richmond theatre for a two days engagement. In this production which was directed by Will Nigh, they have exceptionally ideal roles, being cast as a young married couple, "Jimmy" and "Chaddy" whose one purpose in life was to wring out of it all the pleasure they could.

Others in the cast of this picture which is based on the novel by Hughes Cornell, are Cullen Landis, Doris Kenyon, J. Barney Sherry, Maude Turner Gordon, Frank Morgan and Jackie Ott, constituting a group of players of unusual talent.

In "Born Rich" the author set about to write an indictment of high society, aiming sharp arrows of satire at the follies of the rich set. Although he sets out to ridicule the artificial lives they lead, he is not wantonly destructive in his criticism. He has approached his theme with a sympathetic attitude, and while he misses no chance to give a "dig" where a "dig" is needed, he does so with understanding humor, and in the end proves that rich and poor are alike in virtues and vices. "Jimmy" and "Chaddy" discover that more happiness can be found in a humble cottage than in a stilded palace.

Other features on the same program include "Hello, Goodbye," a Lige Conley comedy, "Sportlight," a novelty sport reel.

Filming of Iron Horse Required Thought and Time

While the first transcontinental railroad was under construction in 1865, General Sherman, back from his march through Atlanta to the sea, remarked of the railway: "I should be unwilling to buy a ticket over it for my grandchildren." In five years, he rode over the line with General Grenville M. Dodge, who was construction engineer of the Union Pacific.

In the William Fox picture of this stirring period in American history, "The Iron Horse," which will be screened for the last time tonight at the California theatre.

Walter Rodgers plays the role of General Dodge, the friend of truck layers and the enemy of bad Indians. The picture presents the colorful life with vivid realism, most of its incidents being based on actual facts of history.

Continuing with his account, Mr. Thayer wrote: "The road was completed in three years, six months and ten days. Two hundred and sixty-five miles were built in 1866; 283 in 1867 and the remainder finished on May 10, 1869." Strangely enough, the picture itself required three years in the making with John Ford directing a huge cast on the open prairies of Nevada and Wyoming.

Congressman Davey Will Save Tree Planted by Washington

The famous old horse chestnut tree, planted by George Washington at Fredericksburg, Va., will be saved. This assurance has been given by Congressman Martin L. Davey, of Kent, Ohio, who in private life is a national authority on trees.

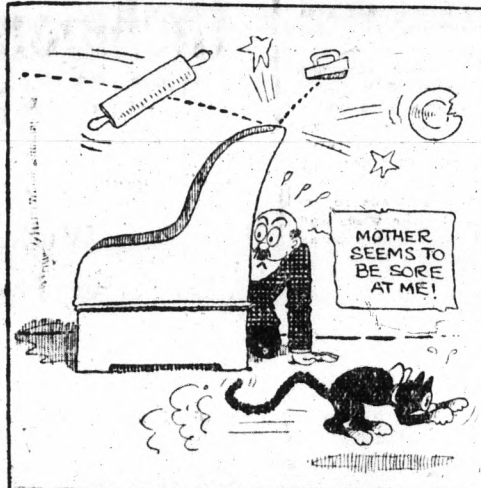

At the request of the Daughters of the American Revolution and patriotic citizens of the town, Congressman Davey consented to undertake to save this the last of thirteen horse chestnut trees planted by Washington.

The trees were originally planted to shade a favorite walk of the first President's, leading from the home of his mother, Mary Washington, to that of his only sister, Betty Washington Lewis. "Kenmore." The trees each represented one of the thirteen colonies, and only one remains standing. Yielding to the patriotic appeal, Congressman Davey contributed the services of some of his tree surgeons, who after working for more than a week succeeded in removing all decayed parts, leaving a cavity in the trunk large enough for a man to enter. This with the cavities in the limbs required more than two tons of cement to fill.

The Congressman made a personal inspection of the work after the decay had been removed and assured the city officials that the tree could be saved and with proper care could be preserved indefinitely.

First Bobbed-Haired Bandit Is Old Lady Now,
But Memories of Wild West's Heyday Still Live

THE FIRST BOBBED-HAIRED BANDIT
Belle Starr, terror of the early days
Wild Bill, Hickok
Pawnee Bill, last of the old timers
The first bobbed-haired bandit is an old lady now, if she is living at all," says Frazier Hunt, in his tales of "Buffalo Bill," the James brothers and other bad good-men and good bad-men of the Wild West which are published in Hearst's International-Cosmopolitan for November.
The doubtful honor of being the first bobbed-haired bandit goes to Jennie Metcalf, bold sweetheart of Zippo Wyatt, who led the notorious Dalton bankrobbing gang.
Jennie shared with Zip his career of brigandage, was captured with him, and the picture of her which accompanies the story shows a wide-awake girl toting a large and ugly shooting iron—not the up-to-date automatic, but a revolver with both trigger and hammer.
Besides describing its feminine member, the author tells how the Dalton gang attempted a double bank robbery simultaneously in the same town—the only one ever attempted.
He also reveals pictures and anecdotes of other boyhood idols of yesteryear—"Wild Bill" Hickok, (the John L. Sullivan of gang fighters); "Buffalo Bill" Cody and "Buffalo Bill" Matheson; and Belle Starr, famous as the daughter of a Missouri judge who turned bandit and like many another of whom Hunt writes, "died with her boots on."

TO ENTER PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

Paul Raffanelli, of East Richmond, will plead not guilty to violation of the Wright act, when he appears before Police Judge C. A. Odell this morning, according to Clara D. Horner, defense council. The plea will be entered on a claim of a "frameup" when he was arrested. He is at liberty on $500 bail.
It is claimed that the police department hired a "spotter" to slip Raffanelli, a bill just as the raiding squad was entering his home.
Police Chief Dan Cox declared that there was no frameup, but the accused man is merely entering a time worn plea. He said that when the raiders entered Raffanelli and the operative, were sitting ten feet apart and that Raffanelli had ample time to dispose of the money.

Edward Eicher
Honored During School Meeting

At the meeting of the Senate of Richmond Union high school Tuesday, Edward Eicher was presented a pennant as winner in the contest for new school songs. The pennant is an attractive affair with large red and blue letters of R. U. H. S. The songs composed by Eicher were played by Paul Basham at the meeting.
During the meeting Bill Milicevich captain of the football players, announced that all future games will be played in spite of the fact that a number of the men on the squad were vaccinated against smallpox.
An announcement was made that the Girls Leagues wishes to add an amendment to the constitution of the school stating that the future social manager be a girl. No definite action was taken.
The contract for the furnishing of all concrete materials in the Community hotel and the Master Craft Tile and Roofing company, formerly known as the Richmond Roofing company, has been granted the roofing contract. According to officials of the hotel this is another indication that home industries and contractors are being favored as much as possible in the project.

RED CROSS YEAR
A RELIEF RECORD

Huge Relief Work After Midwest
Tornado the Greatest in American Annals.

DISASTERS DROP IN 1925

Ranged From Fire to Earthquake and Covered Wide Area at Home and Abroad.

Virtual completion of the largest peace-time project of post-disaster rehabilitation ever known has been accomplished by the American Red Cross in less than a year, as a part of its relief work in the more than 90 disasters in which it served in the past year.
This great program was undertaken following the tornado which struck five mid-western States last spring, killing 756 people, injuring 2,229 more, and causing incalculable property loss. It left a huge area of devastation in its wake, presenting a real problem. The Red Cross, however, went to work on the heels of the storm, caring for the injured, sheltering and feeding whole communities, and helping every individual sufferer from the destruction back to normal.
The magnitude of the problem is indicated by comparison of its huge casualty list with that of the entire preceding year, whose combined losses were 136 dead and not quite 2,000 injured, as a result of the record number of 192 catastrophes.
The story of the Red Cross service in the past year, recounted by the report, ranges from fires heading the list of destructive forces with 29 disasters, to mine explosions, tornadoes, typhoons, floods and earthquakes.
The Santa Barbara earthquake was among the outstanding events recorded in the report. The Red Cross had completed its relief organization on the scene within a few hours of the disaster, and in addition had launched a program designed to permanently restore every person affected by it, to his former status once more.
The Red Cross service in the period following the wreck of the Navy airship "Shenandoah" was typical of its promptness and effectiveness. Service in this instance was afforded by Red Cross chapters in the vicinity of the wreck, and by representatives of the national organization. It demonstrates graphically the value of each of the more than 3,000 chapters of the society which are at work in virtually every part of the country, in the facility they afford the national organization in emergencies.
There were 61 domestic disaster operations reported in which the Red Cross rendered service either through chapter or national staff personnel during the year. In 34 of these the national organization appropriated a total of $3,047,256.49, the greater portion of which was received as direct contributions for the relief of specified disasters. The relief operations following the northern Ohio tornado of June, 1924, were brought to a close in May, 1925, after an arrangement had been made with the Lorain chapter to provide expert services to the families of any tornado sufferers who required such assistance in the next two years. In this single disaster the relief work, as finally accounted, reached a total of $1,019,751.23.
The mid-western tornado of this year, covering a strip of territory 400 miles long involved an expenditure up to June 30 of $774,000, while the total amount turned in to the fund through the agency of the Red Cross was $2,645,000. In addition to this sum specifically collected for the purpose, the Red Cross had expended from its regular reserves $124,000.
In all these disasters, Red Cross workers have been impressed by the spirit of determination and helpfulness shown by the people. Once they recovered from their grief and bewilderment, they began at once to rebuild, materially and otherwise, and always on a better scale where possible. Another significant feature of these occurrences, as noted in the report of the Red Cross, was the promptness with which the local chapters organized emergency relief before help could be received from outside sources. A direct effect of their example has been to stimulate disaster relief preparedness among chapters all over the country.
The services of the American Red Cross are performed invariably in the name of the American people. On the effectiveness of this representation during the past year, it will launch the ninth annual roll call this year on November 11, to continue until Thanksgiving, November 26, during which support through membership will be invited for 1926.
What Becomes of Red Cross Sweaters
What becomes of the sweaters which the American Red Cross has asked for? In the first place, they are needed for the 30,000 disabled veterans still in hospitals this winter, the garments being in great demand. The surplus left from the war has been exhausted since the Armistice, hence the new call for the sweater-knitters to resume their needles, a call already being met.
The American Red Cross serves in your name; you can make it more effective by adding your name to its membership during the Roll Call, Nov. 11-26.
Don't allow wires to hang down under the cowl or dash of the car where they can be kicked loose. Keep them fastened up out of the way.

Lecture on Alaska
Is Enjoyed Here

The lecture on "Alaska" which was given by Dr. F. H. Spence, at the meeting of the Macdonald Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon was greatly enjoyed. Dr. Spence spent many years doing missionary work among the Eskimos of Alaska and was for quite a time their physician. He told of the many hardships in that country.
Mrs. Winifred Jones gave an interesting talk on "India." Devotional services were led by Mrs. Pardoe.
Plans were made for the annual Praise service which is to be given on November 22. Mrs. Fred Newsom was made chairman of the committee in charge of the service. Mrs. Rector and Mrs. Bowman will assist her.
Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Bowman favored the crowd with a duet vocal selection.
The hostesses of the day, Mrs. Harold Patterson and Mrs. W. H. Patterson, served refreshments.

The Spotlight

YOU'VE been in a theatre when the stage was dark, and a spotlight suddenly focused upon the thing you wanted most to see. Advertisements are like spotlights. They focus attention upon the goods that interest you most.

You could wander in and out a dozen stores and, in the confusion of many objects, over-look what would please you best. Yet by reading the advertisements, without leaving your home you can tell definitely where the desired wares are, their prices, how they will serve you. You can know actual values long before you buy.

Advertisements throw light on new comforts and improvements, too, you might like to own. They let you see conveniences other folks are enjoying—bring them within easy reach.

Remarkable Police
Dog Is Starred In
M. E. Church Film

One of the most remarkable of police dogs is Rin-Tin-Tin, who is a featured screen player in a number of Warner Bros. "Classic of the Screen," and who will be seen at the "Family Night" program of Wesley Methodist church tonight in "The Lighthouse of the Sea," the adaptation from Owen Davis play of the same name. Rin-Tin-Tin has won many prizes for broad jumping and endurance, and those of us who saw his remarkable leaping through sea and floor windows and on the back of galloping horses as exemplified in "Where the North Berries," know what to expect of this astute canine. Incidentally, the cast in this production includes Louise Fazenda, "Buster" Collier, Jr., Lyman Brown, "Matthew" Betz, Charles Hill, Mailes and others.

Rin-Tin-Tin's curriculum of studies, in training for the screen, included many different means of attack, fighting, protection and guard duty. He was taught to seize an object without seriously hurting it and holding it down until help came to relieve him of his burden. He was taught to hunt vagabonds and defend the uniform; not to accept anything from strangers, or permit himself to be petted by them; to guard an object placed on the ground to keep individuals at bay without biting them until human assistance arrived, but to attack if necessary, when flight is attempted by those he is guarding, that most difficult reversal of thought which demands quite and inaction up to a certain point, and then ruthless lunging and fighting.

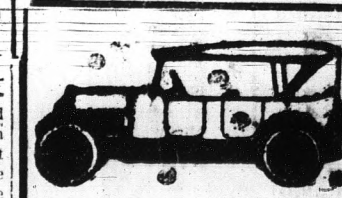

H. A. Johnston and V. C. Kratzer have returned from a trip to Kratzer's farm near Kingsburg and Fresno. They were gone for a week.

Rehearsals Start
For School Show

Rehearsals will start immediately for the Barn-door Bale-y and Ring-less circus that is to appear at Richmond Union high school on October 30, in connection with the school carnival for athletic benefits. This carnival will without a doubt be the biggest event in school history, the committee in charge announced yesterday. The gymnasium will be the center of activities, although booths and concessions will be scattered throughout the school grounds.
Before the carnival and circus the animals, clowns, actors and all other persons, and things connected with the affair will stage a monster parade on Macdonald avenue and other main thoroughfares of the city of Richmond to advertise the event.

Firemen Take Measure of College City

Chief Cooper's Richmond Firemen took on the Berkeley Fire department yesterday in what will probably be the last game this year for the locals, and also took the Berkeleyites into camp to the tune of 9 to 2. The game was to break the tie in a series and Richmond came home from Berkeley with this year's series under their belts.

Jiggs Wright tossed for Richmond and did some good work, well backed up by his supporting cast. Al Haffey tried to do the same for Berkeley, but whenever a Richmond man got on base he stole everything but the spikes off Berkeley. Then Rich-

Tight Averages Cause Interest In Pin League

The Pacific Sanitary Bowling league is now in full swing every Thursday night at the Seventh street drive. At the end of the fourth week of successful pin crashing the Pottery are leading the league with nine games won and but three lost. The Engineers won 8 and lost four. Machine shop won 7 and lost 5 and the Foundry won none and lost twelve.

Henry Thomas of the Foundry is just three points behind Jim Tams who is leading high individual bowler with an average of 189.7. G. Thomas of the Machine Shop is right on their heels with 188. Fred Westman, star of the Winchester five last year is back to normal again with an average of 186.

It looks like a tough battle for high individual average between Tams, Westman and the Thomas brothers. Following are the scores of last night's games:

Decision Expected On Ferry Hearing

A decision from the state railroad commission on the re-hearing of the petition of the San Francisco-Richmond ferry company on the commission's order for the return of money collected for stock, is still being awaited by stockholders of the ferry company. It was announced yesterday by attorneys for the stockholders. More than two months ago the railroad commission granted the stockholders the return of their money. Then the ferry company asked for a re-hearing and no decision has been handed down as yet. The stockholders contend that the ferry company has failed in five years to complete its financing and that it is unable to operate. About $60,000 is impounded, which the stockholders desire returned to them.

PRO FOOTBALL GAINS
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Is professional football gaining a foothold? This question is assuming great proportions in the East. Last Sunday 20,000 fans saw two professional eleven battle in New York, in spite of the fact that the Army and Notre Dame appeared before a capacity crowd the previous day. There are now 19 professional teams in 15 cities.

MAILS RETURNS
Walter Mails, self style "Great," was a visitor in Oakland yesterday for the first time after returning west after a season with the Cardinals of St. Louis. Incidentally he tried to find out who started the report that he was not going to stick with the Cards due to a fight with Roger Hornsby. He did not divulge whether he found out or not.

ROCKNE SHIFT OUT
EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 22.—Tired of failure and lack of punch which he obtained with the Notre Dame system, Coach Smith of Oregon, has discarded it and has gone back to the old Beedeck style, which for years was coached by that man and later by Shy Huntington. This is expected to give new spirit and probably a surprise for the Bear.

WORK UNDER LIGHTS
PALO ALTO, Oct. 22.—Pop Warner stole some of Andy Smith's stuff last night when he had his Stanford varsity gridgers working after sun, down. Big searchlights were played on the field as the Cards held scrimmage. Warner expects a tough game with the Aggies and is giving his charges plenty of work to do in preparation for the event.

TROJANS LOSE FIVE
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22.—Hard practice in preparation for the game Saturday with the Wildcats of Arizona has cost Coach Jones of the Trojans five members of his football team. To mend the faults witnessed in the Stanford game, Jones had driven his men hard and the work has resulted in five of this stringers being on the sick list.

Learn to recognize and identify the noises of the engine when it is running smoothly the click of the valves, the hum of the timing, pump and ignition gears and the sound of the exhaust. If you do this you will be able to note any unusual noise before serious damage has been done.

LOUISVILLE IS VICTORIOUS IN FIRST CONTEST

When the smoke of battle cleared away after the first game of the "little world series" in San Francisco yesterday, the Seals were victorious and the Louisville Colonels were defeated. The Seals won by a score of 7 to 0.

When hits meant runs Tincup sent the sweating Seals back to the dugout, dazed by his terrific speed. He called his forces around him in the very first inning and never was he in danger.

Ty Tyson, recently sold to the New York Giants for a reported price of $100,000, upheld his reputation with nine putouts in centerfield, seven of them hard chances and then to show what he was really worth drove in three of the seven runs with a single, a double and a home run.

Vainly did Manager Ellison, change pitchers, shoot in pinch hitters and switch outfielders and infielders. Vainly did he try to stem the tide of battle. But Big Chief Tincup was not to be stemmed. He pulled his cap more firmly over his brow, hitched his trousers another notch

HIGH SCHOOL PLANS RALLY BEFORE GAME

Richmond Union high school is to stage the first rally of the year tonight. It will be to boost the "Big" game of the year, that with San Rafael Military academy on Saturday afternoon at Nicholl field.

Coach Ivan Hill will have to send his cohorts into the hardest and biggest game of the year under a handicap. Walter Seigel, Rowdy Dyer, Dutch Holland and Lefty Caldwell, four stellar gridgers have all been vaccinated this week. They might be able to go into the game and again they might not, most probably not.

The rally will be in the evening and will begin at the high school and wind up down the avenue a few miles. The school band will lead the parade and will be followed by practically every student of the school.

When adjusting the spring shackles to eliminate side-play be careful not to get them too tight. Tight shackles make the car ride roughly, straining the top spring leaf, and they may cause a broken spring or broken shackle bolt.

The Doctor's O.K.

OUR PROUD REPUTATION

That the Purity Creamery of Richmond is one of the best conducted and most sanitary plants in the state was the opinion of speakers who sponsored the new milk ordinance before the city council.

Dr. Blake and others spoke in high terms about the local creamery which is said to have passed all state inspections with high scores under the pure food act. It has always merited the very best reports, it was said.

Your doctor drinks more milk than you do. Think that over! And he recommends more milk for you—take his advice. He knows.

Dr. Blake, Richmond's Health Official gave the readers of this paper an interesting article on the value of milk and better health in yesterday's issue. If you haven't read it you've missed something mighty important.

Youthful Dancers To Participate in School Program

Sixty youthful Richmond dancers, pupils of Miss Matilda Meyer, well known Richmond danseuse, will participate in the entertainment which is to be given in the Roosevelt Junior high school auditorium Friday, November 20. Esola's orchestra will accompany the little dancers. Special scenery is being secured for the entertainment.

Classes are conducted in Moose hall every Wednesday afternoon by Miss Meyer.

Violin Concert At Junior High

A violin concert will be given this afternoon between 12:15 and 12:45 in the Junior high school auditorium by Miss Dorothy Hospitalier, member of the faculty. Mrs. W. E. Cunningham will accompany Miss Hospitalier. The program is being looked forward to with interest for Miss Hospitalier is a violinist of marked ability.

The following program will be given:

Air for the G. String... J. S. Bach
Soprano... Franz Dryde
Second Mazurka... Wieniewski
Romance... Johann Swenson
Spanish Dance... Fabian Heyfield
Melody in F. Transcription...

Cross-Complaint Filed in Divorce

MARTINEZ, Oct. 22.—Roland F. Robinson of Richmond has filed a cross-complaint to a divorce suit brought by Mrs. Eileen Robinson charging that his automobile was termed a mousetrap by his wife, that she left home without explanation, that she said she had $2000 in an Oakland bank, when they were married that she did not have, and that she gave an address for parents and an aunt at which he could find no relatives.

Mrs. Robinson, in her complaint charged that Robinson failed to provide for her and was otherwise cruel.

Local Union Asks Whitney Pardon

A resolution has been adopted by the local Potter union to Governor Richardson, requesting a pardon for Anita Whitney, Oakland woman, under fourteen year sentence in San Quentin, for violating the criminal syndicalism law.

Mrs. Edwards Is Granted Divorce

MARTINEZ, Oct. 22.—A divorce was today granted Frances Cynthia Edwards from Alonzo Edwards, of Richmond, in superior court here today. The ground for the complaint was cruelty. Mrs. Edwards was represented by Tsar N. Calfee.

TWIN BROTHERS LOST LEFT LEGS EXACTLY A YEAR APART WHILE WITH THE CANADIANS IN WORLD WAR

Harry suffered the same fate exactly a year later in Cambria. This photograph was taken recently while they were delegates to the Amputation Association convention at Winnipeg.

New Gymnasium Schedule Given Out by Y. M. C. A.

A new schedule for gymnasium classes at the Richmond Y. M. C. A. was announced yesterday by Secretary A. W. Mueller as follows:

Business and Professional Men, Mondays, Thursdays, Saturdays, 5 to 7 p. m.

Young Men's Division, Tuesdays, Thursdays, 8 to 9 p. m.

Employed Boys Thursday, 7 to 8 p. m.

Junior Boys (12 to 15 years) Tuesdays, 7 to 8 p. m.

Cadet Boys (10 to 12 years) Saturdays, 2 to 3 p. m.

Y. M. C. A. Boys' club, Mondays, 7 to 8 p. m., Saturdays, 2 to 4 p. m.

Volley Ball league, Fridays, 7 to 10 p. m.

Basketball, Saturdays, 7 to 10 p. m.

The schedule for women will include classes from 6:30 to 7:30, 7:30 to 8:30, and 8:30 to 9:30. The various divisions of women and their class time will be designated later in the week.

Davis Rites Will Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services for Ollie Marie Davis, 38-years-old resident of Stegan, who passed away at his Redward avenue home Tuesday night, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Wilson and Kratzer chapel. Interment will be in Sunset View cemetery.

Deceased was a native of Kern county and had been a resident of Stegan for many years. He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Ida S. Davis; his children, Alvia S. Davis, Mildred Davis and Ollie Davis, Jr., a brother, J. J. Davis, Bakersfield, and three sisters, Mrs. L. Holmquist, Los Angeles, Zeta Davis, Ventura and Sadie Davis, Hollywood.

Davis was a member of the modern Woodmen for many years.

PROFITS DO NOT REACH CITY PURSE

warehousing on all goods after they have been in the warehouse over a week.

For unloading goods from a car to the platform 45 cents per ton.

For moving the goods from the platform to the warehouse, including piling and breaking down again 68 cents per ton.

For unloading goods and moving them direct from the car to what is known as ships tackle 50 cents per ton.

Warehousing companies generally have a fixed method of fixing charges. In order to take care of the interest on the investment, depreciation, maintenance and administration charges, labor cost is first taken, and then 125 per cent is added to it. This then is the charge that is made to the shipper.

It can readily be seen that this is where the profit comes in, and not on the mere pittance of 15 cents per ton that is paid for warehousing.

The profits of the goods that are passing through the municipal warehouse are going to the Richmond Terminal Corporation.

In 1923 there were 73,082 tons of goods passed through the warehouse. Take the figures quoted previously charged for handling goods by private warehouses, take the tonnage that passed through the warehouse in 1923, find the labor cost, then take your pencil, do a little figuring, and see what the profit is.

At the present time, the Record-Herald does not know the tonnage for 1924, but will secure this data later.

The city of Richmond is maintaining at the wharf, a harbor master at a salary of $245 per month, an assistant at $160 per month, a secretary to the harbor master at $140 per month, an outside man, located in San Francisco at a salary of $200 per month, (incidentally his office is with the Richmond Terminal Corporation in the Hobart building in San Francisco.) last months office rent for the outside man was $37.50, and with the salary of a nightwatchman, salaries alone for administration will reach over $900 per month.

Collection Suit Is Filed Against Fairmede Club

A mechanic's lien was filed against the property of the Fairmede Golf club yesterday by Zeb Knott, Richmond painting contractor in an effort to collect $1210 said to be due him for painting materials used in the construction of the club building. Hiram Jacobs is attorney for the plaintiff.

WHITE BARBECUE STAND IS SOLD

Jake Wallace has sold the White Barbecue stand on San Pablo avenue to Mrs. L. B. Lane, the latter announced yesterday. The White Barbecue is not connected in any way with the Round-up barbecue, purchased by Frank Wimberly.

District Governor To Visit Local Club

The coming of District Governor of International Rotary Thomas Bridges of Oakland, to Richmond today, promises to be an interesting event. Preparations for this annual visit are being made by officers and members of the local organization. This district, including California, Nevada and Hawaii is the largest in the Rotary world. The session today is for members only.

This sum does not include maintenance, nor does it take in the interest on bonds, and bond redemption amount to about $80,000 per year.

To meet these large sums, the City of Richmond is accepting what is generally termed as the skim milk, and the members of the Richmond Terminal Corporation are lapping up the cream, with no investment.

When the Richmond Terminal Corporation incorporated 5 shares were subscribed. This would be $500. Whether any additional stock has been issued is not known. Possibly some stock may have been issued but later turned back to the corporation.
